Graded Feeders Glades Sale Today

The Florida Cattlemen's Association, in cooperation with the State Department of Agriculture, is sponsoring this season's first graded feeder calf sale in Belle Glade today—Friday.

Two others are scheduled: Aug. 7 in Gainesville and on Oct. 2 Kissimmee is having the first graded replacement heifer calf sale, according to FCA president Ralph Celson, Sr., Hague.

The 1,100 Florida steer calves will be graded by state personnel prior to 7:30 p. m., when Col. R. D. (Bob) Cooper, Sarasota, will wield the auction hammer.

Calf producers from as far as St. Cloud in Osceola County and feeder calf buyers from nearby and out-of-state are expected here for the sale.

"Also expected to show more than a passing interest will be members of farm youth organizations and non-participating calf producers—all attending to learn more about the quality demands of buyers and, as witnesses to the grading procedures, what authorities are looking for when judging the animal," says John D. Stiles, chief of the SDA's marketing division.

County Commissioners learned this week that the Port of Palm Beach has been marking time on a proposed lease agreement turning a portion of Peanut Island over to the county for development as a recreational area.

A week ago the board asked its legal department for recent developments on the proposal made originally by the Port board. The county, after studying the proposed lease, sought clarification on some points and further information before concluding the agreement.

County Attorney Harry Johnston reported Monday that no action has been taken recently by the Port board which is awaiting new information from a dredging contractor hired to deepen the port inlet.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

A barricade across old State Road 707 near Jupiter was ordered up this week by the county commission.

The board action came on the advice of County Attorney Harry Johnston who said it was an obligation of the board to close the road. The highway has been relocated on the other side of Hobe Sound island and a request from a property owner asked that the old road be closed.

Similar action to barricade the abandoned road has been taken by the Martin County commission.

In other actions this week the county board:

Voted to condemn remaining parcels needed for improvement of State Road 808 west of Delray Beach—outside the city limits.

Agreed to sell for $1, an abandoned building at the County Home and Hospital. The old structure was sold to the Flotilla Club of West Palm Beach.

Agreed to make available from the new budget, the amount of $1300 to help finance a geological survey of the FCD district. The FCD had asked the board to sign a three-year agreement calling for annual payments of $1300 but the commission rejected the offer. The county board cannot budget for the future—only on a year to year basis.

A tentative budget totaling $17,626,221 was adopted this week by the county commission.

At the same time the board delayed adopting a tax levy after Comptroller J. P. Icard said there are some levy changes to be made. He referred to the Flood Control District which is revising its millage rate.

In another action the board approved the budgets and tax levies of ten fire control districts.

The current tax bill will include fire control taxes for the first time this year. Funds raised from this source will be used to finance operations of several volunteer fire departments along the coastal area.

In the past, the fire departments have been helped by direct grants from the county but at the last session of the legislature, a special act was passed authorizing the volunteers to form districts and to levy taxes to finance their departments operations.

TALLAHASSEE — Florida has moved a step closer to implementing the Florida-Colombia Alliance with mutual agreement and informal commitments aimed at opening a student exchange program within the next six months, says Florida Secretary of State Tom Adams.

The agreements were reached during a visit to Florida by several Colombian public and educational officials.

First step in the junior college exchange program will bring two Colombian instructors to the Dade and St. Petersburg junior colleges to teach Spanish.

The University of Florida will have a fellowship for one Colombian student in the fall. The University of Miami will accept several graduate students in its school of medicine and both Florida State and University of South Florida have expressed interest in the exchange program.

Dixie farmers set their clocks by the Standard Man!

Southern farmers trust Standard Oil's deliveries as much as the dependable quality of its farm fuels. They count on their Standard Oil Man and the postman to get through on schedule, regardless of weather. They also count on Standard's gasolines to enable their tractors to take peak loads in full stride. Top performers, too, in your car or truck. A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

The Sermon on the Mount will be taken up section by section in the Bible Lesson on "Love" at Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday. The Golden Text is from I Thes. 4: "Ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another." Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this statement: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (p. 518).

Mrs. Eugene McCall and son Mike left Saturday for their home in Norfolk, Va. after being called to Canal Point by the death of her father, M. C. Carter.

New College Ground Breaking Is Held

SARASOTA — Ground breaking ceremonies for New College of Sarasota were held July 21. President George F. Baughman turned the first earth for the trail-blazing institution.

Opening in September after more than three years of preparation, New College hopes to be a leader in tomorrow's education. The college has sought out promising June graduates for its 100-member charter class. More than 70 percent were in the top 10 percent of their class.

The scholastic calendar will provide for an 11-month academic year, with a bachelor of arts degree after three years. Semesters are interspersed with reading periods to provide maximum flexibility.

The ground breaking climaxed a campaign on the part of hundreds to Sarasota-Bradenton area residents, with the help of the United Church of Christ. More than $3 million has been raised so far to make the educational dream a reality.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{3}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest-egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and equipment. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOUR GOVERNMENT ... A WEEKLY REPORT BY

Farris Bryant
FARRIS BRYANT
Governor of Florida

AGE OF COMPASSION

In spite of all our individual and collective self-centeredness, we live in an age of compassion. For the first time in recorded history, on a massive scale, compassion has become an effective, national emotion, and has shaped our responses to many of the problems of our time.

The people of Florida and America are finding ways to use their government as effective tools for the expression of their concern for the common good without sacrificing basic liberties. Mental retardation—and polio—and tuberculosis—and juvenile delinquency—and crippling diseases—are all accepted as proper areas of governmental concern.

Time was when the concern of the people and the state for criminals ended with their conviction and incarceration. We have come to recognize, through intelligent and developed compassion, that imprisonment is not the end, but the beginning, and we have learned to our delight that what serves the convicted also serves the public.

Time was when our concern for education ended with its provision on a limited and voluntary basis. We have now come to recognize that the presence of the functional illiterate in our midst is a drag upon the society as well as the individual. We have come to recognize that when we let young people stop their education short of their capacity, society loses even as Colonial Spain lost when its gold-laden galleons sank to the bottom of the sea.

I am more proud of the people of Florida for their action of last November in taking a stand for advanced education on a major scale than for any other event of the last several years.

We take it for granted that through the state-wide program of the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies (FICUS), the extensive off campus science education program of the University of Florida, known as GENESYS; Educational Television (ETV); and Operation Alphabet, the state can and should extend educational opportunity to all who will accept it.

The list is a long one:

1. Care for the mentally ill.
2. Programs of encouragement for physical fitness.
3. Concern for dependent children whose parents, because of ignorance or misfortune, neglect them.
4. Care for old people who, in a world where families are breaking down, cannot meet the medical needs common to age.

Fifty years ago—ever 30—it was generally believed that goals such as these could not have been achieved without an intolerable loss of freedom. But they are being achieved, and because Americans are voluntarily assuming the burdens of citizenship, the blessings of freedom are becoming more manifest, and more generally enjoyed.

We shall not win the war on poverty in one battle. We shall not cure the diseases to which mankind is heir with one remedy. We may never do so! But we have begun to try. We have set our course. We have dared, as free men, to adopt these goals, and if our reach exceeds our grasp, it were better so.

One of the great lessons contemporary history teaches us is that there is no substitute for the voluntary determination of a man or a people to perform a task. Whether it is raising wheat in Russia, or raising a roof in early America, or raising the standards of citizenship in Florida today, no one can do it as well as the volunteer.

NASA Academy At Avon Park-Sebring

The space age and the initials N-A-S-A have a special "home-town" meaning for the residents of Avon Park and Sebring, Florida. A 150-acre tract between the two south central Florida communities is the site of the new National Air Space Academy, a non-profit, boarding preparatory school for boys.

NASA will offer all the courses that will, upon graduation of a cadet, be acceptable to the various colleges and universities, and will provide necessary preparation for the respective service academies: West Point, Naval Academy, Air Force Academy, Coast Guard Academy and Kings Point Academy. NASA, as its name indicates, will promote aerospace education, together with dual flight instruction, at the request of the parents.

National Air Space Academy is the first private secondary boarding school to build its curriculum around the Aerospace Education program of the Civil Air Patrol. The model for this boarding school is the Mary Knoll Academy, a private day school, in Honolulu, Hawaii, where Lt. Col. Francis Gomes has developed a similar program. All cadets will be members of the Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the United States Air Force, however, National Air Space Academy is in no way officially connected with the Air Force or any agency of the Federal Government.

NASA will open for boys in grades seven through post-graduate status on September 20 of this year. Additional information may be obtained by writing the Director of Admissions, NASA, Box 1000, Avon Park, Florida 33825.

LT. RONALD ELLIOTT

Lt. Elliott Receives Silver Pilot Wings

VALDOSTA, GA. — Lieutenant Ronald B. Elliott, son of Mrs. Haywood Baxter of Naples, Fla., has been awarded U. S. Air Force silver pilot wings upon graduation from flying training at Moody AFB, Ga.

Lieutenant Elliott is being assigned to flying duty in a unit at McCoy AFB, Fla., which supports the Strategic Air Command mission of keeping the nation's intercontinental missiles and jet bombers on constant alert.

The lieutenant, who received his B. S. degree from Arizona State University, was commissioned through the Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

His wife, Joan, is the daughter of George L. Burr, Jr. of 1560 Lake Mirror Drive, Winter Haven, Fla.

Miss Becky Mackey and her sister and children, Mrs. Ernest Tillman returned this week from a vacation in Alabama where they visited their uncle.

Cattle Industry In The Doldrums

KISSIMEE — The Florida Bankers Association has thrown its support solidly behind the beleaguered Florida cattle industry, it was announced here today by Art Higbie, Executive Vice President, Florida Cattlemen's Association.

Speaking for the Florida Bankers Association, Louis Gilbreath, Chairman of the Florida Bankers Association Livestock Committee, and Vice President of the Exchange Bank, St. Augustine, said that most of the members of the Association would be displaying beef posters in their banks throughout the month of August, and otherwise participating in the program of the cattle industry to alert the public to the need for corrective action.

Gilbreath said, "As Chairman of the Livestock Committee of the Florida Bankers Association, I am deeply gratified at the response and help the Association is giving to Florida's cattlemen. Florida is being flooded by an ever-increasing volume of imported beef coming into the state through our ports. This so-called 'bargain beef' is becoming a serious threat to the economy of our home-owned Florida cattle industry. Florida cattlemen need the help of every citizen of Florida if we are to preserve Florida's vital meat-producing industry."

LONGS ON VACATION

Dr. and Mrs. Ronald R. Long and son, Rammie, left Wednesday for Indiana and a visit with relatives there. They also plan to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Welker, at St. Paul, Minn., and return to their home in two weeks.

Mrs. Mary Long left this week for Lakeland where she will undergo tests at Watkins Clinic.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

Each of the seven denominations of Series E Savings Bonds shows a different President of the United States. If you're interested in this kind of art, the seven make a nice collection.

Along with the hobby, Savings Bonds offer such extras as riskless investing, 3 1/2% more money at maturity, and financial freedom for your future.

But there are other kinds of freedom tied in with your purchase of Savings Bonds. Freedom to speak your piece, choose your job, and own your property, to name a few. Every Bond you buy helps our government further the cause of freedom everywhere in the world today.

Why not start collecting U. S. Savings Bonds now? Only $18.75 each for the George Washington variety, at your bank or on Payroll Savings where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with
